The President's Armistice Address

Washington, Nov. 11.—In announcing the armistice terms to Congress, the President said:

Gentlemen of the Congress:

In these anxious times of rapid and stupendous change it will in some degree lighten my sense of responsibility to perform in person the duty of communicating to you some of the larger circumstances of the situation with which it is necessary to deal.

The German authorities who have, at the invitation of the Supreme War Council, been in communication with Marshal Foch, have accepted and signed the terms of armistice which he was authorized and instructed to communicate to them. Those terms are as follows:

MILITARY CLAUSES ON WESTERN FRONT.

1—Cessation of operations by land and in the air six hours after the signing of the armistice.

2—Immediate evacuation of invaded countries: Belgium, France, Alsace-Lorraine, Luxemburg, so ordered as to be completed within fourteen days from the signing of the armistice. German troops which have not left the above-mentioned territories within the period fixed will become prisoners of war. Occupation by the allied and United States forces jointly will keep pace with evacuation in these areas. All movements of evacuation and occupation will be regulated in accordance with a note annexed to the stated terms.

3—Repatriation beginning at once and to be completed within fourteen days, of all inhabitants of the countries above mentioned, including hostages and persons under trial or convicted.

4—Surrender in good condition by the German armies of the following equipment: Five thousand guns (two thousand five hundred heavy and two thousand five hundred field), thirty thousand machine guns; three thousand minenwerfer; two thousand aeroplanes (fighters, bombers, firstly D. seventy-threes and night bombing machines); the above to be delivered in situ to the allies and United States troops in accordance with the detailed conditions laid down in the annexed note.

5—Evacuation by the German armies of the countries on the left bank of the Rhine. These countries on the left bank of the Rhine shall be administered by the local authorities under the control of the allied and United States armies of occupation. The occupation of these territories will be determined by allies and United States garrisons holding the principal crossings of the Rhine, Mayence, Coblenz, Cologne, together with bridgeheads at these points in thirty kilometer radius on the right bank, and by garrisons similarly holding the strategic points of the region. A neutral zone shall be reserved on the right of the Rhine between the stream and a line drawn parallel to it forty kilometers to the east from the frontier of Holland to the parallel of Gernsheim, and as far as practicable a distance of thirty kilometers from the east of stream from this parallel upon Swiss frontier.

Evacuation by the enemy of the Rhine lands shall be so ordered as to be completed within a further period of eleven days, in all nineteen days after the signature of the armistice. All movements of evacuation and occupation will be regulated according to the note annexed.

6—In all territory evacuated by the enemy there shall be no evacuation of inhabitants; no damage or harm shall be done to the persons or property of the

"LIGHTLESS NIGHT" RULES OFF UNTIL WEDNESDAY

All "lightless nights" regulations in Massachusetts were temporarily suspended today by James J. Storrow, Federal Fuel Administrator for New England, until Wednesday, November 13.

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE
Builds strength to fight off grip and colds.—Advt.

The German armies must evacuate the left bank of the Rhine, that territory to be administered by the allies. On the east, Germany's armies must be withdrawn within the pre-war boundaries of Germany. The Rumanian and Russian treaties are abrogated. The armistice is to extend for 30 days with the privilege of renewal. These are the terms of Germany's surrender as announced to Congress by President Wilson today. In addition Germany surrenders 5,000 guns, 2,000 aeroplanes and 3,000 minenwerfers. The President assured Congress that Germany could not renew the war if she wanted to.

GREAT VICTORY IN SACRIFICE, SAYS GEORGE

London, Nov. 11 (1:05 p. m.)—"It is the most wonderful victory in the world, and let us thank God for it," declared Premier Lloyd George, speaking from a window of his Downing street residence to the assembled throng in the street. "It is due to the splendid sacrifices of our sons and daughters and to the common people of our empire, our dominions and our allies."

Earlier the Prime Minister had been brought to the door of his residence by the cheering multitude, and after the noise had been somewhat stilled he announced the signing of the armistice and the cessation of hostilities.

All London went wild over the end of the war. Crowds surged through the streets celebrating the good news. The whole city was draped with flags and joy salutes were fired from cannon.

Thirty thousand persons had gathered in Trafalgar square at noon and the crowd soon overflowed Whitehall. A squad of American soldiers, led by Private H. C. Tinnes, bearing the United States colors, drew up in front of the flag-draped War Office and cheered. Everywhere American and British soldiers appeared in public they got an ovation.

Scores of giant motor lorries appeared in the streets, seemingly from nowhere, packed with girls and soldiers. They cheered in regular football style. Heavy trucks darted through the crowds miraculously.

Three thousand clerks from the Foreign Office jammed Downing street, cheering as the American and English flags were swung to the wind over the Premier's official residence. There was an impromptu parade down Whitechapel and much cheering, while the high-angle guns were booming out salvos of jubilation.

VON HINDENBURG IN FLIGHT TO HOLLAND

London, Nov. 11 (3:20 p. m.)—Field Marshal von Hindenburg, chief of staff of the German army, and twelv other high officers have fled into Holland, said a dispatc received here this afternoon.

KAISER'S PARTY MAY BE INTERNED BY HOLLAND

London, Nov. 11.—Just what action the Dutch goverment will take toward the Kaiser and his party is n known, but the Daily Mail stated today that they would u doubtedly be interned.

WILSON CHEERED 3 MINUTES IN CONGRESS

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary Baker and Secrtary Daniels joined in the outburst of cheering and han clapping that greeted the President's announcement the demand for surrender of 160 U-boats as one of t armistice terms imposed upon Germany. The applau when the President ended his reading of the terms last three minutes.

NEW LONDON YEOWOMAN INJURED IN PARADE

New London, Ct., Nov. 11.—Miss Anna Cody, a yeowo [illegible] was severely injured in an impromptu parade here today when a heavy naval truck on whic she was riding collapsed. She was taken to a hospital.

BULLETINS!

London, Nov. 11, 10:51 a. m.—Marshal Foch, the allied generalissimo, issued the following order to all commanders to cease hostilities, said a French wireless dispatch today: "To Commanders-in-Chief: Hostilities will cease on the whole front as from Novemb[illegible] 11 at 11 o'clock a. m. (French time). The allied troo[illegible] will not until further orders go beyond the line reached on that date and at that hour. (Signed) MARSHAL FOCH."

London, Nov. 11.—The mighty fortress of Mons on the Franco-Belgian frontier, was captured by Canadian troops this morning, the British War Office announced. The foregoing is probably the last achievement of the allied troops before the cessation of hostilities.

London, Nov. 11 (10:20 a. m.).—Premier Lloyd George announces that the armistice between Germany and the allies was si[illegible] 5 o'clock this morning, Paris time (11 o'clock Was[illegible] D. C., time). Hostilities ceased at 11 a. m. [illegible]

ALL WE FOUGHT FOR ACHIEVED, SAYS THE PRESIDENT

"The armistice was signed this morning. Everything for which America fought has been accomplished. It will now be our fortunate duty to assist by example, by our friendly counsel and by material aid in the establishment of a just democracy throughout the world."—President Wilson in statement today to the American people.

PRESIDENT GIVES OUT THE TERMS

inhabitants. No destruction of any kind to be committed. Military establishments of all kinds shall be delivered intact, as well as military stores of food, munitions, equipment not removed during the periods fixed for evacuation. Stores of food of all kinds for the civil population, cattle, etc., shall be left in situ. Industrial establishments shall not be impaired in any way and their personnel shall not be moved. Roads and means of communication of every kind, railroad, waterways, main roads, bridges, telegraphs, telephones, shall be in no manner impaired.

7—All civil and military personnel at present employed on them shall remain. Five thousand locomotives, fifty thousand wagons and ten thousand motor lorries in good working order, with all necessary spare parts and fittings, shall be delivered to the associated powers within the period fixed for the evacuation of Belgium and Luxemburg. The railways of Alsace-Lorraine shall be handed over within the same period together with all pre-war personnel and material.

Further material necessary for the working of railways in the country on the left bank of the Rhine shall be left in situ. All stores of coal and material for the upkeep of permanent ways, signals and repair shops left entire in situ and kept in an efficient state by Germany during the whole period of armistice. All barges taken from the allies shall be restored to them. A note appended regulates the details of these measures.

8—The German command shall be responsible for revealing all mines and delaying acting fuses disposed on territory evacuated by the German troops, and shall assist in their discovery and destruction. The German command shall also reveal all destructive measures that may have been taken (such as poisoning or polluting of springs, wells, etc.), under penalty of reprisals.

9—The right of requisition shall be exercised by the allied and the United States armies in all occupied territory. The upkeep of the troops of occupation on the Rhineland (excluding Alsace-Lorraine) shall be charged to the German government.

10—An immediate repatriation without reciprocity, according to detailed conditions, which shall be fixed, of all allied and United States prisoners of war.

The allied powers and the United States shall be able to dispose of these prisoners as they wish.

11—Sick and wounded who cannot be removed from evacuated territory will be cared for by German personnel who will be left on the spot with the medical material required.

DISPOSITION RELATIVE TO THE EASTERN FRONTIERS OF GERMANY.

12—All German troops at present in any territory which before the war belonged to Russia, Rumania or Turkey shall withdraw within the frontiers of Germany as they existed on August 1, 1914.

13—Evacuation by German troops to begin at once and all German instructors, prisoners and civilians, as well as military agents now on the territory of Russia (as defined before 1914) to be recalled.

14—German troops to cease at once all requisitions and seizures and any other undertakings with a view to obtaining supplies intended for Germany in Rumania and Russia (as defined on August 1, 1914).

15—Abandonment of the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk and of the supplementary treaties.

16—The allies shall have free access of the territories evacuated by the Germans on their eastern frontier, either through Danzig, or by the Vistula, in order to convey supplies to the populations of those territories or for any other purpose.

CLAUSE CONCERNING EAST AFRICA.

17—Unconditional capitulation of all German forces operating in East Africa within one month.

GENERAL CLAUSES.

18—Repatriation, without reciprocity, within a maximum period of one month, in accordance with detailed conditions herafter to be fixed, of all civilians interned or deported who may be citizens of other allied or associated states than those mentioned in clause three, paragraph nineteen, with the reservation that any future claims and demands of the allies and the United States of America remain unaffected.

19—The following financial conditions are required: Reparation for damage done. While such armistice lasts no public securities shall be removed by the enemy which can serve as a pledge to the allies for the recovery or repatriation for war losses. Immediate restitution of the cash deposit in the National Bank of Belgium and in general immediate return of all documents, specie, stocks, shares, paper money together with plant for the issue thereof, touching public or private interests in the invaded countries. Restitution of the Russian and Rumanian gold yielded to Germany or taken by that power. This gold to be delivered in trust to the allies until the signature of peace.

NAVAL CONDITIONS.

20—Immediate cessation of all hostilities at sea and definite information to be given as to the location and movements of all German ships. Notification to be given to neutrals that freedom of navigation in all territorial waters is given to the naval and mercantile marines of the allied and associated powers, all questions of neutrality be waived.

21—All naval and mercantile marine prisoners of war of the allied and associated powers in German hands to be returned without reciprocity.

22—Surrender to the allies and the United States of America of one hundred and sixty German submarines (including all submarine cruisers and mine-laying submarines) with their complete armament and equipment in ports which will be specified by the allies and the United States of America. All other submarines to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allied powers and the United States of America.

23—The following German surface warships which shall be designated by the allies and the United States of America shall forthwith be disarmed and thereafter interned in neutral ports, or for the want of them, in allied ports, to be designated by the allies and the United States of America and placed under the surveillance of the allies and the United States of America, only caretakers being left on board, namely: Six battle cruisers, ten battleships, eight light cruisers, including two mine layers, fifty destroyers of the most modern type.

All other surface warships (including rivercraft) are to be concentrated in German naval bases to be designated by the allies and the United States of America and are to be paid off and completely disarmed and placed under the supervision of the allies and the United States of America. All vessels of the auxiliary fleet (trawlers, motor vessels, etc.) are to be disarmed.

24—The allies and the United States of America shall have the right to sweep up all mine fields and obstructions laid by Germany outside German territorial waters and the positions of these are to be indicated.

25—Freedom and access to and from the Baltic to be given to the naval and mercantile marines of the allied and associated powers. To secure this the allies and the United States of America shall be empowered to occupy all German forts, fortifications, batteries and defence works of all kinds in all the entrances from the Cattegat into the Baltic, and to sweep up all mines and obstructions within and without German territorial waters without any question of neutrality being raised and the positions of all such mines and obstructions are to be indicated.

26—The existing blockade conditions, set up by the associated powers are to remain unchanged and all German merchant ships found at sea are to remain liable to capture.

27—All naval aircraft are to be concentrated and immobilized in German bases to be specified by the allies and the United States of America.

28—In evacuating the Belgian coasts and ports, Germany shall abandon all merchant ships, tugs, lighters, cranes and all other harbor materials, all materials for inland navigation, all aircraft and all materials and stores, all arms and armaments, and all stores and apparatus of all kinds.

29—All Black Sea ports are to be evacuated by Germany; all Russian war vessels of all descriptions seized by Germany in the Black Sea are to be handed over to the allies and the United States of America; all neutral merchant vessels seized are to be released; all warlike and other materials of all kinds seized in the seaports are to be returned and German materials as specified in clause twenty-eight are to be abandoned.

30—All merchant vessels in German hands belonging to the allied and associated powers are to be restored in ports to be specified by the allies and the United States of America, without reciprocity.

31—No destruction of ships or of materials to be permitted before evacuation, surrender or restoration.

32—The German government shall formally notify the neutral governments of the world, and particularly the governments of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland, that all restrictions placed on the trading of their vessels with the allied and associated countries, whether by the German government or by private German interests, and whether in return for specific concessions such as the export of shipbuilding materials or not, are immediately cancelled.

33—No transfers of German merchant shipping of any description to any neutral flag are to take place after signature of the armistice.

DURATION OF ARMISTICE.

34—The duration of the armistice is to be thirty days, with option to extend. During this period, on failure of execution of any of the above clauses, the armistice may be denounced by one of the contracting parties, on forty-eight hours' previous notice.

TIME LIMIT FOR REPLY.

35—This armistice to be accepted or refused by Germany within seventy-two hours of notification.

The President, concluding the armistice terms, proceeded as follows:

The war thus comes to an end; for, having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it.

It is not now possible to assess the consequences of this great consummation. We know only that this tragical war, whose consuming flames swept from one nation to another, until all the world was on fire, is at an end, and it was the privilege of our own people to enter it at its most critical juncture in such fashion and in such force as to contribute in a way of which we are all deeply proud to the great result.

We know, too, that the object of the war is attained; the object upon which all freemen had set their hearts; and attained with a sweeping completeness which even now we do not realize.

Armed imperialism such as the men conceived who were but yesterday the masters of Germany is at an end, its illicit ambitions, engulfed in black disaster.

Who will now seek to revive it? The arbitrary power of the military caste of Germany, which once could secretly and of its own single choice disturb the peace of the world, is discredited and destroyed. And more than that, much more than that has been accomplished. The great nations which associated themselves to destroy it have now definitely united in the common purpose to set up such a peace as will satisfy the longing of the whole world for disinterested justice, embodied in settlements which are based upon something much better and much more lasting than the selfish competitive interests of powerful states. There is no longer conjecture as to the objects the victors have in mind. They have a mind in the matter, not only, but a heart also. Their avowed and concerted purpose is to satisfy and protect the weak as well as to accord their just rights to the strong.

The humane temper and intention of the victorious governments has already been manifested in a very practical way. Their representatives in the Supreme War Council at Versailles have by unanimous resolution assured the peoples of the central empires that everything that is possible in the circumstances will be done to supply them with food and relieve the distressing wall that is in so many places threatening their very lives; and steps are to be taken immediately to organize these efforts at relief in the same systematic manner that they were organized n the case of Belgium. By the use of the idle tonnage of the centrl empires it ought presently to be possible to lift the fear of utter misery from their oppressed population and set their minds and energies free for the great and hazardous tasks of political reconstruction which now face them on every hand. Hunger does not breed reform; it breeds madness and all the ugly distempers that make an ordinary life impossible.

Nor with the fall of the ancient governments which rested like an incubus upon the peoples of the central empires has come political change not merely, but revolution; and revolution which seems as yet to assume no final and ordered form, but to run from one fluid change to another, until thoughtful men are forced to ask themselves, with what governments, and of what sort, are we about to deal in the making of the covenants of peace? With what authority will they meet us, and with what assurance that their authority will abide and sustain securely the international arrangements into which we are about to enter? There is here matter for no small anxiety and misgiving. When peace is made, upon whose promises and engagements besides our own is it to rest?

Let us be perfectly frank with ourselves and admit that the question cannot be satisfactorily answered now or at once. But the moral is not that there is little hope of an early answer that will suffice. It is only that we must be patient and helpful and mindful above all of the great hope and confidence that lie at the heart of what is taking place.

Excesses accomplish nothing. Unhappy Russia has furnished abundant recent proof of that. Disorder immediately defeats itself. If excess should occur, if disorder should for a time raise its head, a sober second thought will follow and a day of constructive action, if we help and do not hinder.

The present and all that it holds belongs to the nations and the people who preserve their self-control and the orderly processes of their governments; the future to those who prove themselves the true friends of mankind.

To conquer with arms is to make only a temporary conquest; to conquer the world by earning its esteem is to make permanent conquest.

I am confident that the nations that have learned the discipline of freedom and that have settled with self-possession to its ordered practice are now about to make conquest of the world by the sheer power of example and of friendly helpfulness. The peoples who have but just come out from under the yoke of arbitrary government and who are now coming at last into their freedom will never find the treasures of liberty they are in search of if they look for them by the light of the torch. They will find that every pathway that is stained with the blood of their own brothers leads to the wilderness, not to the seat of their hope.

They are now face to face with their initial test. We must hold the light steady until they find themselves. And in the meantime, if it be possible, we must establish a peace that will justly define their place among the nations, remove all fear of their neighbors and of their former masters, and enable them to live in security and contentment when they have set their own affairs in order.

I, for one, do not doubt their purpose or their capacity. There are some happy signs that they know and will choose the way of self-control and peaceful accommodation. If they do, we shall put our aid at their disposal in every way that we can. If they do not, we must wait with patience and sympathy the awakening and recovery that will assuredly come at last.

BULLETINS!

London, Nov. 11.—The German armistice plenipotentiaries, said a French wireless dispatch today, have sent out the following message:

"To the German High Command and to all authorities interested: "An armistice was signed at 5 o'clock this morning (French time) and comes into force at 11 o'clock (French time)."

Washington, Nov. 11.—It is indicated today by staff officers that some of the troops may be started home from Europe at once. The estimates as to when all will be again in the United States depends on the number of ships available. General March, chief of staff, said today that it would be several months. Estimates run all the way from three to ten months.

Paris, Nov. 11 (11:30 a. m.).—Great fleets of airplanes dropped messages along the front line trenches, notifying the troops of the suspension of hostilities.

(Hostilities suspended at 11 o'clock a. m., Paris time.)

Washington, Nov 11.—Anticipating a possible celebration of the ending of the war, the White House authorities, ordered all of the gates about the structure locked and guarded at 8:30. Only persons with credentials were allowed to enter the executive office.

London, Nov. 11 (10:42 a. m.).—All London went wild today over the end of the war. Crowds surged through the streets celebrating the good news. The whole city was draped with flags and joy salutes were fired from cannon.

WHISTLES SHRIEK NEWS

Hundreds of Paraders Throng Streets Amid Bedlam of Din; Factories Stop Work

With approximately two million people in the streets, Boston celebrated the victory of American and allied arms and brains on the battlefields of Europe.

The city and New England just went wild.

It was an informal holiday without parallel in the history of the city. Business in many places didn't even stand a chance of beginning. Many industrial plants, offices and stores remained closed for the most part. The schools, the remaining industrial establishments and the City Hall closed at noon time. During the morning, by order of Acting Police Commissioner Crowley, the sale of liquor was stopped in saloons, bottling stores and hotels.

The holiday will continue unabated until Wednesday mrning.

Impromptu parades and demonstrations clogged every street in the city.

The celebration was thoroughly good natured and no scenes of disorder were reported. Every hour brought carloads and trainloads of visitors to the city en fete.

More than 18,000 workers from Fore River and Squantum marched in and took possession of the Common at 11 o'clock. Another meeting had been arranged for that time and place with Congressman-elect John F. Fitzgerald presiding. The shipworkers held the park until afternoon, however.

MASS MEETING IN CRADLE.

At noon there was a mass meeting in Faneuil Hall, with Governor Samuel W. McCall, Mayor Andrew J. Peters, Major-General Crozier, Admiral Wood and City Councillor Walter Collins as speakers.

Band concerts and the singing of patriotic songs were on the order of the day everywhere. Most of the marchers in the impromptu celebrations hastily arranged by the larger industrial plants carried at least one and sometimes several effigies of the Kaiser, most of which were finally burned in high glee.

At 2 o'clock came the first official parade of the day, consisting of naval and military bodies. Colonel Albert S. Williams, chief of staff of the Department of the Northeast, was chief marshal. General Crozier, Admiral Wood, and Mayor Peters led the line. The civilian section of the parade was dressed in costumes of the allied nations. State, city and military officials reviewed the parade from points of vantage.

At 3:30 in the afternoon President Emeritus of Harvard Charles W. Eliot, presided at a patriotic mass meeting in the Old South Church. Rev. George A. Gordon, Rev. Henry Van Dyke and others spoke.

TOMORROW IS VICTORY DAY.

Victor A. Heath, chairman of the Boston Public Safety Committee, and Mrs. I. Tucker Burr arranged for the indoor meetings yesterday, anticipating the news of the overwhelming victory would reach Boston today.

Payson Smith, State Commissioner of Education, announced that tomorrow, proclaimed as Victory Day by Governor McCall, which will be generally celebrated as a holiday throughout Massachusetts, will be celebrated in some schools by closing, and in others by appropriate exercises.

Twenty thousand cheered as the image of the Kaiser was burned on the Common by the Fore River and Squantum workers. The four bands struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" with the entire throng standing bareheaded.

A band of bag pipes, clad in overalls and leading the parade, rendered music.

Another feature of the ship yard men's parade—an object that set the thousands of people that lined the streets into hysterics — was the Kaiser's coffin. Painted black and about seven feet long, it bore in letters two feet high, "C. O. D. to Hell."

The parade following the exercises on the Common marched to Park square and thence up Beacon street to the State House, where the men cheered Governor Samuel McCall and Woodrow Wilson.

CITY AWAKE BEFORE DAYBREAK

Shortly after 5 a. m. a parade of more than 1,000 yelling citizens formed a Victory Parade and marched through the downtown section of the city. It was somewhat dark, but that was of little consequence. Hundreds of old-fashioned torch lights were obtained. City Hall was stormed; the State House likewise. An automobile containing an Army officer was held up in Beacon street and the officer given three cheers.

ARMY OFFICER MAKES SPEECH.

The officer stood in front of the famous Shaw Memorial and made an impromptu speech. Enthusiasm was at a high pitch. At this point hundreds of night telephone operators with American flags joined the parade.

Guests at the Parker House, Young's and the Bellevue Hotel came to the windows and cheered. One elderly woman at the Bellevue waved a flag and threw a box of candy to the marchers.

By this time the outside districts were pouring into the city proper. Many had horns, flags and noisemakers.

Hundreds of residents of the North End joined the parade in Newspaper row. They were headed by a band and several flag bearers. It was a cheering, howling, exceptionally good-natured crowd.

Every boat whistle in the harbor shrieked. The siren on the fireboat led the celebration. Every factory whistle in and about the city blew to its capacity. Automobiles decorated with flags drove through the streets, their horns blowing continuously.

7,000 NAVY WORKERS MARCH.

Seven thousand employes of the Navy Yard, many in automobiles and thousands on foot, marched up Tremont street past the Common before 11 o'clock. They had two bands with them, but their shouts and cheers outnoised twice twenty bands.

A thousand workers from the Watertown Arsenal paraded to the Common with bands. They held a rousing patriotic meeting on the Common. The Common was, in fact, the scene of innumerable meetings. It seemed as though 500 of them were going on at the same time.

Italians from the North End marched past carrying an effigy of the Crown Prince. A member of the delegation dressed to present Pershing, was industriously engaged in stabbing the effigy with a knife.

Three young men dressed as clowns walked by. Each carried two iron frying pans which they used to make noise.

South Boston's big industrial plants all closed for the day, and the thousands of employes paraded through the streets, waving allied flags, bearing effigies of the Kaiser, and making the air ring with cheers. Every section of the Peninsula district was alive with paraders.

NEWSIES WITH TIN PANS.

A crowd of newsboys with tin pans and wash boilers, headed by a youngster with a big American flag, marched up and down Washington street.

Fire engine houses throughout the city added much to the celebration by the blowing of engine whistles and the clanging of the gongs

At 6 o'clock Washington street was carrying as heavy a traffic as on the ordinary noon day.

Hundreds of soldiers and sailors lined the sidewalks as the numerous parades passed.

Thousands of residents from the West and North Ends were on the streets when the parade reached Hanover street. From there to Commercial street along Hanover there was tumult as thousands of Italians lined the sidewalk. Italian and American flags were everywhere. Police of the Hanover street station were detailed to hold the crowds back. Hanover street was a street of flags. Nearly every window from Washington street to Commercial street had at least one.

NEWS ISSUED AT 2:45 A. M.

The news of the signing of the armistice was issued at Washington at 2:45 a. m. Within a few seconds it was received in every newspaper office in New England. It did not take very many minutes for the news to be "flashed" to fire stations, shipyards, railroad centres and factories.

Then came bedlam. Whistles on factories blew; those on locomotives shrieked; night workers in shipyards tried to drown the terrific uproar by their cheers; taxicab drivers dashed wildly through the streets tooting their horns; police officers smashed steel poles with their night sticks which added to the din; bells on fire stations were sounded; meeting bells on town halls sent forth the good news.

By 3 o'clock virtually every man, woman and child in New England knew that the greatest day in history had arrived. Peace had been restored to the world with victory for the United States and the Allies. Right had conquered might. Liberty had crushed autocracy. President Wilson had redeemed democracy with the aid of the great leaders of the Allied nations.

There was little sleep for the people of New England after the uproar started. Who could sleep with such a bedlam raging? And who would sleep with the world celebrating the glorious victory?

EVEN HEAVENS REJOICE.

It seemed as though a greater power than any on this earth heralded the coming of peace. The Northern stars were never so bright as they were last night. They illuminated the whole heavens with their brilliance. They appeared to be lighting the way for a new world—a world of peace and good fellowship.

A word of the mothers, sisters, fathers, brothers, relatives and friends of our boys in the service. The news of the end of the war in victory was received by them with tremendous joy.

YANKEES LEAD BIG VICTORY PARADE IN PARIS

By International News Service.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The victory celebration began shortly before noon. One of the first parades was led down the Place de la Concorde by twelve American doughboys. The crepe which had veiled the Metz and Strassburg monuments for forty years was torn down and immediately there was a great scramble for souvenirs.

Another great parade formed in the Place de l'Opera amidst cheering. At this hour the marchers are passing through Grand Boulevard, the ranks eight abreast. It is led by American and Italian officers, a burly Australian and a middle-aged French woman.

The ranks are filled with Americans and all the other allied soldiers and numerous women nurses.

The restaurants quickly filled with joyous crowds.

Peace Brings Dangers That Your Money Will Prevent

GREAT VICTORY PARADE AND MEETING FOR TOMORROW NIGHT

THOUSANDS TO SHOW COLORS

Boston and Suburban Towns to Join in Celebration Arranged by American

Broadened in scope, the meeting called for Faneuil Hall tomorrow night by the Boston AMERICAN will be a giant celebration in honor of the victory of America and her allies.

Originally scheduled as a ratification meeting to celebrate the victory of Senator-elect Walsh and President Wilson, the celebration has developed into a non-partisan jubilee for the triumph of American and allied right over Prussian might.

The meeting will be presided over by the city authorities, Mayor Peters being its permanent chairman.

A monster parade, including delegations from every section of the city and its suburbs, will precede the meeting. Men, women and children, of every race, every creed, and every shade of political opinion will march in honor of the greatest victory the world has even known. Thousands of patriotic Bostonians will turn out to review the paraders, and add their voices to the millions cheering America.

THOUSANDS TO MARCH.

The American band of twenty-five pieces, led by James T. Kenney, will head the parade, which will glow from one end to the other with red fire, and glisten with American flags. The parade will march down Boylston street to Washington street, through Washington street to Dock square and thence to Faneuil Hall.

Major P. F. O'Keefe has consented to act as chief marshal of the parade. He will announce his aides later.

Marching clubs from Dorchester, Roxbury, East Boston, South Boston, Winthrop, Revere, Neponset, Meeting House Hill, West Roxbury, Roslindale, Dedham, Chelsea, the Back Bay, South End West End, North End, Charlestown, Somerville, Everett and other sections will march to the starting point and there merge into the big procession. From Framingham will come a special delegation 300 strong, led by Richard H. Long, and many other outside cities will also be represented in line.

At Faneuil Hall ex-Mayor Josiah Quincy, assistant Secretary of State under President Grover Cleveland, and a leading progressive of the Constitutional Convention, will act as temporary chairman. Mayor Peters will be permanent chairman of the meeting.

Senator-elect Walsh, making his first public appearance since his election, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers will be John F. Moors, of the Boston Finance Commission, who with Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard, was one of that group of independents who so heartily endorsed the candidacy of Walsh, as a patriotic duty in standing behind the policies of President Wilson; Richard H. Long, of Framingham; John S. Codman; and the Democratic Congressmen-elect, John F. Fitzgerald and Michael F. Phelan of Lynn. Congressmen Olney, detained in Washington by press of duties, and Gallivan, unable to attend because of illness, will send important messages by wire and letter.

WOMEN TO JOIN.

The women of Massachusetts will be represented in the big parade by Miss May Matthews, Mrs. Winifred MacFarland, Miss Julia O'Connor, Miss Florence Adesska, Miss Elma Nelson, and Miss Anna Wematritz, who made a whirlwind tour of the Commonwealth demanding the defeat of Senator Weeks. They will carry the banners they used to such telling advantage in their successful campaign. They will have prominent places at the meeting.

Mrs. Lewis J. Johnson of the Massachusetts Woman Suffrage Association will officially represent her constituents on the platform of the historic hall, and a well known representative of labor will have a front row seat.

Practically every Democratic leader in the State has accepted an invitation to attend, and the gathering will be the most representative held in Boston in many years.

Pandemonium Turned Loose in the Suburbs; Big Parades Are Held

Whistles on Lynn factories were tied down at 3 a. m. today, and until daylight the people gave themselves up to joy and celebration.

Between 5,000 and 10,000 people paraded the streets and open house was proclaimed in practically all the residences of the city.

Lynn's real celebration, however, commenced at 2 p. m. when a parade of 40,000, with every band in the city, started from City Hall. This celebration had been arranged in anticipation of peace.

Employes of the shoe factories and the General Electric Company went to the plants at 7 o'clock and then declined to work.

EAST BOSTON.

Excitement ran high in East Boston when it was announced by church bells and fire sirens that Washington had proclaimed that an armistice had been signed.

More than 500 revolvers and rifle shots were fired as the crowds went mad with joy. Thousands joined in a parade led by a base-drum. Fire apparatus went through streets in the Orient Heights section, awakening the people, who soon came pouring into the street, swelling the streets and blocking traffic. In the parade fifteen boys carried large flags spread out. They were followed by a large float, carrying all the flags of the allied nations. Police did not attempt to stop the firing of revolvers as the crowd showed no tendency toward fighting.

SOUTH BOSTON.

South Boston went wild over the peace news. A prolonged screeching whistle on a heavy locomotive started it. In ten minutes church bells, factory whistles, and horns were going full blast. The population on its way to work sang patriotic songs in the street cars, starting with the "Star-Spangled Banner" and ending with "It's a Long Way to Tipperary." The favorite seemed to be a parody on the John Brown song, sung to the words of "We'll hang the Kaiser to a sour apple tree."

DORCHESTER, HYDE PARK.

Factory managers in Dorchester gave orders to have the whistles tied down so that the noise would be prolonged. Hundreds of whistles tooted, the fire engine crews rang the bells and blew the whistles.

All of the telephone operators reported at 5 a. m. One operator said that when she arrived at the board every light on the board was burning.

No work today in any of the Hyde Park shops. Every man woman and child declared a holiday at 6 a. m. The shopworkers remained at their benches just ten minutes. Headed by a bugler who played "The Star Spangled Banner," thousands of the workers paraded around the shops, then went home. Church bells, fire gongs, factory whistles and hundreds of citizens, all helped to make the Victory news the biggest thing ever known in Hyde Park.

SOMERVILLE.

Somerville took the news of the signing of the armistice rather quietly. Until 7 a. m. no more than the ordinary number of persons were in the street. When the fire department was notified of the armistice the siren was sounded for five minutes at 4 a. m. and at 5 a. m. Whistles in the packing plants near the Charlestown line were screeching all morning. In a number of sections boys and girls formed parades and marched through the streets, using tin pans as drums. Mayor Charles W. Eldridge was to officiate at a celebration on the common this afternoon.

MALDEN, MELROSE, EVERETT AND MEDFORD.

Malden, Melrose, Everett and Medford joined with neighboring cities in the great celebration. In these cities impromptu parades were formed with thousands of citizens joining. Malden school children, instead of going to school, gathered in the central part of the business section where they were held a celebration of their own. There was no school session today. A monster parade will be held tonight. In Melrose the fire apparatus went through the principal streets ringing bells and sounding engine whistles. Factory whistles blew constantly. Flags were hung everywhere. Some residents fired revolvers.

All the factories in Malden closed because all hands were celebrating. Employes promptly formed for parade and marched through the streets of the city. It was the biggest celebration ever seen in Malden. It was planned to keep school open today and close tomorrow, but the pupils upset things. Only a few went to school and they were quickly dismissed. There will be an even bigger parade tonight. Similar celebrations took place in Melrose, Medford and Everett.

CHELSEA.

In Chelsea the people were notified of the good news by the ringing of church bells and fire apparatus bells. Police Sergeant Henry Harrison notified Mayor Edward E. Willard when he became aware of the news and the Mayor notified all the churches to ring for victory. In Revere the fire siren was screeching from the fire station during the early hours of the morning. An Italian colony in Revere started off the celebration with hundreds of rounds of revolver shots. Everybody was out in the street.

BRIGHTON.

Brighton went wild over the news of the signing of the armistice. Whistles on engines of the Boston & Albany railroad screeched all through the early morning hours. Fire bells rang and the giant "bull" whistle at the abattoir screeched the news to the people. Large numbers of men, women and children were on the streets at an early hour and everybody was happy.

BROOKLINE.

People of Brookline were notified that the armistice had been signed by the ringing of bells in churches. A meeting of the board of selectmen was held to decide whether Victory day will be observed tomorrow as designated by Governor McCall or that the celebration will be held today. More people were in the streets at 6 a. m. today than usually at 7 or 8 o'clock on ordinary days. Flags were everywhere. Children in the Brookline village section paraded the streets singing the national anthem and waving flags.

CAMBRIDGE.

Cambridge started its peace celebration at 5 o'clock with the big whistle on the Worthington pump factory blowing full blast. Sleep after that was impossible. The fire bells took up the clamor and in a half-hour everything that would make noise, from a penny whistle to a wash boiler, was doing its share. Even the shrill whistles on the locomotives passing through the city were sounding.

TUFTS COLLEGE.

With the big bronze bell in the chapel on the hill sounding its notes of triumph, Tufts College training camp sent the news of peace ringing through Somerville and Medford long before the population was awake and the stars had faded overhead.

Military etiquette was forgotten. Captains, lieutenants and privates mingled together and shouted at the top of their lungs. Bugles sounded from every quarter long before it was time for reveille to be blown.

Some one thought of the chapel bell—the bell which has rung the triumph of Tufts' victories ever since the college was founded. Permission from the commanding officer was given and a hundred privates made a rush for the chapel.

With the first toll of the bell Somerville and Medford awakened. Flags were flung to the breeze. Horns, rattles, bugles and tin cans—anything that would make a noise—were brought into play.

The Jackson College girls were up with the first sound. They immediately called a meeting at Metcalf Hall—and a meeting at Metcalf Hall in the early hours of the morning is an unusual thing—and planned festivities for the day.

A big meeting was planned for the morning and an entertainment for the soldiers in the Y. M. C. A. quarters in the gymnasium in the afternoon.

WAKEFIELD.

Girls of the Harvard Knitting Mills at Wakefield, reported for work this morning, and promptly walked out, four abreast, to take part in the celebration that started early and continued throughout the day. There were a thousand of them marching in line.

All factories were closed for the day, and a parade a mile and a half long, headed by an Italian band and consisting of many organizations formed early. At 7:30 p. m. another victory parade is scheduled to take place, in which the whole town will take part.

SQUANTUM.

Squantum's peace messenger was Roy Olson, aged ten years, who when he heard the whistles in Boston sounding their din of joy of the end of the war hustled into his clothes, dropped out of his bedroom window and headed for the First Church of Squantum. He gained entrance by forcing a window of the basement, and at 4:20 a. m. the church bell began to herald the coming of world peace to the town.

SALEM.

The day was declared a holiday in Salem, by proclamation of the Mayor and at 4 a. m., after the news had been spread by the repeated sounding of the fire alarm, a parade was started. This continued until daybreak, when speechmaking began in the Town House square. Scenes of wild enthusiasm were to be seen on every street. Half a dozen bands headed as many bodies of marchers. A big parade was organized at 2 o'clock, with every civic organization in town and the State Guard participating.

Arlington celebrated by the sounding of the fire whistle and ringing of church bells for an hour.

Eleven thousand men, women and children, and several detachments from the military companies took part in a parade. Captain Harry Perkins was chief marshal. He was escorted by members of the Rotary Club.

QUINCY.

The city of Quincy proclaimed a general holiday today. City Hall, the schools, factories and all office buildings were closed. Shipbuilders from the Fore River and the Squantum plants formed a parade in which all kinds of placards and all sorts of noise-making devices were conspicuous.

Employes of the Fore River yard, numbering 16,000, headed by the Fore River Band and Scotch bagpipes, marched from the yard to City square, where they were greeted by Mayor Joseph L. Whiton and city officials.

NEWTON AND WELLESLEY.

Newton Highlands began its celebration with red fire and noise-making instruments at 4 o'clock, and continued all day. Wellesley saved all its energy for this evening, when a celebration will be held. Waltham was the scene of a dozen parades. The schools and factories were closed, and preparations made for a big parade tonight, in which 4,000 school children will be the central figure.

ANDOVER.

Andover, Nov. 11.—The students of Phillips Academy celebrated with a torchlight procession before sunrise. They proceeded to the residence of John N. Cole, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, who delivered a patriotic address.

LAWRENCE.

Lawrence, Nov. 11. — Every mill and factory here closed today to allow the workers to celebrate. Hundreds of trucks loaded to the guards were in a continuous parade. The Kaiser in effigy was a feature of the festivities. Former Fire Chief James Hamilton led the principal parade, which was featured by 40 Armenians who had an animated figure of Uncle Sam leading a Turk by a rope placed around the Turk's neck. Behind the Turk was a soldier prodding him with a bayonet.

CONCORD AND LEXINGTON.

With the Kaiser, hanging in effigy, fifty feet above the ground on the "Liberty Pole" in Monument square, historic Concord town celebrated with all kinds of noise and hilarity. The fire and factory whistles were blown for an hour, and the church bells were rung for as long a time. The fire department turned out and the citizens formed a parade headed by a band.

Lexington citizens were awakened before daylight by the sounding of the fire alarm. Then the apparatus went through all the principal streets, clanging bells and sounding sirens. Church bells were rung for nearly an hour. The Kaiser was hanged in effigy on Battle Green, where the first battle of the American Revolution was fought, April 19, 1775. There 800 school children were gathered, who sang patriotic songs.

Chamber Has Parade.

The grain board of the Boston Chamber of Commerce organized an impromptu parade at 11 o'clock, when the 800 men and women in the building marched with flags and ticker tapes upon their shoulders through cheering thousands on the streets.

Governor McCall Names Tuesday as Victory Day

The following proclamation was issued by Governor Samuel W. McCall:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

By His Excellency Samuel W. McCall, Governor.

A PROCLAMATION:

The people of Massachusetts will universally wish to celebrate the glorious news of the return of peace worthily crowned with complete victory.

It will hardly be possible for them to delay the expression of their very deep pleasure over so momentous an event.

In order that there may be an approach to concert of action and an organized expression, I hereby set aside Tuesday, November 12, as Victory Day, and request that all cities and towns of the Commonwealth arrange some suitable celebration, and that, so far as possible, the day be observed as a holiday, and that the flag of our country be generally flown.

The State law prohibits the flying of a foreign flag upon public buildings, except upon the occasion of a citizen of such foreign country becoming the guest of the United States or this Commonwealth, but there is no prohibition against the flying of such flags upon private buildings, and I most earnestly urge the display of the flag of those countries by whose side we have been fighting.

I also recommend that there be music, speeches and other suitable exercises, the ringing of bells, the assembling of people in churches and other meeting places, and such other marks of observance as may seem best to those having the celebration in charge in the different communities.

I strongly enjoin the taking of due precaution against fire, and every effort in all other respects to maintain the public safety.

Given at the Executive Chamber in Boston this eleventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred eighteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred forty-third.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Well Known Lady Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair By a Simple Home Made Remedy.

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home-made remedy, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home. To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. This is not a dye, it does not color the most delicate scalp; is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."

"As a laxative, and for stomach trouble, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a wonderful remedy. I suffered greatly from indigestion and found relief after using one bottle." (From a letter to Dr. Caldwell written by Cecil Fitzgerald, 829 14th St., Parkersburg, W. Va.)

Constipation is a condition that should never be neglected. The eliminative process is an essential factor in digestion and on its proper functioning depends the welfare of the entire system. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin relieves constipation without griping or other discomfort.

OVER A MILLION ALREADY IN WAR DRIVE FUND

War Chests Boost Campaign in State; Big Contributions in Boston

The glorious spirit of peace successfully launched the United War Work drive today. Boston and New England started right in to let dollars express thanks to the fighters for the peace they have won.

In the city proper $187,500 was contributed for a starter, while ten war chest cities and towns sent in $1,254,725, all of them generously oversubscribing their quotas.

The first Boston contributions reported were:

Lee, Higginson & Company	$50,000
Kidder, Peabody & Company	50,000
Hornblower & Weeks	25,000
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Gannett	25,000
North Packing & Provision Co.	10,000
J. P. Squire & Company	10,000
William Filene's Sons	7,500
Mrs. W. Scott Fitz	5,000
Mrs. Nathaniel Thayer	5,000
	$187,500

The War Chest contributions received to date are:

	Contribution	Over Quota
Brockton	200,000	200 per cent.
Lexington	22,500	150 per cent.
Melrose	45,000	150 per cent.
New Bedford	345,000	150 per cent.
Norton	3,750	150 per cent.
Walpole	15,000	150 per cent.
Springfield	570,000	125 per cent.
Monson	12,375	120 per cent.
Southampton	1,100	110 per cent.
Pittsfield	100,000	100 per cent.
	$1,254,725

ARMY OF 30,000 WORKERS.

New England started in bright and early this morning to gather its quota of $22,500,000. An army of more than 30,000 workers began to canvass Greater Boston for the $7,500,000 that the Metropolitan District has been asked to give, and undoubtedly will.

The opening of this drive for the greatest free will offering in the history of the world was auspicious. At the very start the word came into Boston headquarters that the War Chest towns were contributing their quotas as well as 50 per cent. more. The money in these places is being taken from the War Chests.

Hundreds of meetings throughout the State marked the final preparations for the drive. Symphony Hall by a great rally last evening, while in the afternoon the Victory Boys and Girls, each of whom will earn $5 as a personal contribution, met and received final instructions at Faneuil Hall. Several thousand of these patriotic youngsters began their campaign for $5 jobs here in Boston today.

The cottages on the Common were all handed over to the United War Work Campaign. Here charming girls and men workers gathered to solicit contributions from those who passed.

HEADQUARTERS ON COMMON.

The Boston Women's Committee for the Drive made headquarters at Liberty Hall on the Common, and from that point will supervise the efforts of the 7,500 women in the city who will help the cause along. Mrs. Harry Leinman and Miss Julia Prendergast are the chairmen of this committee. The women's efforts will be centred on the hotels, department stores and the homes, principally.

Booths were opened by the women in the various hotels throughout the city this morning and will be kept open all week.

The ward chairmen of Boston were to meet shortly after noon at the Parker House, and report results to Ward Chairman Daniel J. Gallagher, assistant district attorney of Suffolk County. A similar meeting will be held every day of the drive which concludes a week from today.

For the next seven days Boston will be asked to GIVE. As this city led in oversubscribing the Liberty Loan, so do the leaders here hope it will again show the country the way in this great offering for the welfare of our soldiers.

No greater appeal ever was made.

The American soldiers have done their part. They have chased William Hohenzollern, one-time Kaiser, right off the map. They have saved civilization. Thousands of them will never return.

FOR SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

This campaign is solely for the soldiers and sailors; that the living may be kept clean and true Americans during the troublesome period of demobilization that lies ahead, that the glorious memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice may be preservd.

The arrival of peace has made the need of generous response on the part of American people even greater than in time of actual war. American troops must be the police of Europe, and conservative estimates place at least two years as the time which must pass before America's millions are all brought back to their homes.

"The inevitable growth of the Army and Navy," declared President Wilson in the statement in which he urged the people of the country to make the big free will offering a glorious success, "and the multiplying demands for our help from France, Italy and Russia make it clear that a generous oversubscription is highly desirable. No matter how distant the day of peace may prove to be, it will be followed by a long period of demobilization, during which the opportunity and need for the constructive work of these organizations will be quite as great as in war times, and I am glad to note that your plans contemplate serving the soldiers and sailors in this critically important period."

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, president of the National Catholic War Council, one of the seven organizations united in this monster drive, yesterday issued an urgent appeal to his fellow-countrymen to the same general effect.

"It is very evident," he said, "that in this period of waiting and during the time of occupation (the period of demobilization and restoration of Europe) the services of these seven welfare organizations will be more needed than ever. It will be the time of great danger to our soldiers, of danger more fatal than shot and shell. It is our duty to do our utmost to protect our beloved boys from these moral perils."

GIVE!

By NICK FLATLEY

Gifts that provide for the service which this campaign (United War Work Campaign) makes possible are not so much gifts to organizations, as gifts—invaluable gifts—to our soldiers, sailors and marines, and constitute an appropriate expression of our gratitude for their patriotism and unselfish devotion.—WOODROW WILSON.

SONS OF ITALY CHEER THE AMERICAN

Italian celebrators, parading joyfully in honor of the signing of the armistice, cheered the Boston AMERICAN for several minutes in front of the AMERICAN building on Summer street today.

The Italian parade was one of the first of the extemporaneous demonstrations. It was formed in the North End and marched into the business district.

The swarthy, dark eyed sons of Italia waved American and Italian flags. They cheered President Wilson, King Victor Emmanuel and the armistice.

The paraders went down Summer street and came to a halt in front of the AMERICAN office. The AMERICAN has frequently published Italian editions for their benefit in Boston, especially while the last great Italian drive was in full swing along the Piave River. This was the hammer blow which broke Austria's military back and made her quit the war.

The Italian editions, describing the irresistible sweep of these modern legions of storied Italy, enjoyed tremendous sale among North End residents.

The paraders had already bought copies of today's first edition of the AMERICAN announcing the armistice. They waved these papers gleefully. They waved their flags. They broke into repeated cheers. Then the head of the parade line started along down Summer street to carry on the informal demonstration of the great joy of the North End.

Cardinal O'Connell Orders Te Deum in Churches Tonight

Anticipating the signing of the armistice, Cardinal O'Connell had arranged for a religious observance of the practical ending of the great world war. Following out the orders of the Cardinal a Te Deum service will be held in the Cathedral this evening at 8 o'clock, with the Cardinal himself leading the intonation.

The Cardinal has also ordered that all pastors of the diocese at a similar time shall arrange for services in all of the churches. The following notice from the archdiocesan authorities explains itself.

"In the event of the signing of the armistice His Eminence will solemnly intone the Te Deum, the great church hymn of thanksgiving to God, in the Cathedral at 8 o'clock on the evening of the day on which the armistice is signed.

"The Te Deum is the century-old hymn of thanks to God by the church on momentous occasions when the people desire to express their gratitude to God for His favors and blessings. To this service His Eminence invites all the people to assemble on the day on and non-Catholic alike, to thank God for the great triumph of our cause and to invoke God's blessing for the welfare of our country and for the return of peace and good will to the whole world.

"His Eminence also orders all the pastors of the diocese to have appropriate services of thanksgiving at an hour convenient for the people of Boston, both Catholic which the armistice is signed."

6,000 TERMINAL WAREHOUSE MEN PARADE

This was one of the placards borne by a parade of 6,000 men from the big Terminal Warehouse under construction on Summer street extension in South Boston, designed for the biggest building in the world.

The men, in their overalls and jumpers, jammed into motor trucks. When the trucks were filled to the limit an overflow of foot paraders fell in behind. They rode and walked up Summer street, down Washington to Adams square, up Hanover street to Scollay square and thence up Tremont street. They were "set" to go it all day.

They cheered, waved flags, blew horns and yelled themselves hoarse. The chauffeurs made their engines backfire again and again so that the effect was about the same as gunfire.

This parade was one of the first on the celebration job and was as enthusiastic as 6,000 sturdy workmen could make it, backed by the rocketing cheers of admiring spectators all along the line.

Shoe Workers to Celebrate.

Members of Local No. 229, Boot and Shoe Workers' Union, are to celebrate with a big parade tomorrow. They will assemble at headquarters, No. 514 Tremont street, at 9 o'clock, when the parade line will be formed.

SALE OF LIQUOR IS STOPPED BY AUTHORITIES

All saloons and liquor stores were ordered closed, and hotels ordered to stop the sale of liquor for the rest of the day, at 10 o'clock this morning, following a conference between Mayor Peters and Acting Police Commissioner Michael J. Crowley. Orders were issued by Superintendent Crowley to the captains of each police station, who, in turn communicated through their officers with the dealers. Penalty for violation of the order is a fine of $200 and possible loss of the license.

Action was taken under Chapter 291, Section 19, Acts of 1906, which gives the Mayor or police commissioner authority in extreme emergency to close all places selling liquor.

The orders issued by Acting Commissioner Crowley made a veritable Sahara of the city, all classes of licenses being affected, and liquor being unprocurable even with food in hotels.

DOUBLE LEGAL STAMPS

ALL DAY—EVERY DAY—THIS WEEK

Monday, Nov. 11, to Saturday, Nov. 16, Inclusive, Save Five Cents on Every Dollar You Spend

When the government is asking everybody to save conservation is patriotism.

Economy is the watchword today — and in collecting Legal Stamps you are not only reaping the benefit which cash payments entitle you to—a cash discount—but you are cooperating with the Government in encouraging Cash trading.

This week offers you a chance to practice thrift and economy to a more satisfying degree than usual, because the stores giving Legal Stamps will give you twice the usual number of Stamps with every dollar's worth you buy.

MORE FUNDS ARE REQUIRED FOR XMAS FUND

$10,000 Is Sum Needed by American to Relieve Suffering Among Poor

With the second thousand mark almost in reach the Boston AMERICAN'S Christmas Basket Fund is just about holding its own today in the race to reach $10,000 before Christmas Day.

This amount, or something nearly approaching it, must be raised this year if the poor widows and little children of this city are to have their Christmas dinner. Unless the Boston public responds this year as they have in the past, there will be many tears and hungry little ones on the day when cheer is supposed to reign supreme.

Contributions from boys and girls up to today have been received as follows:

FALLS UNDER VICTORY CANNON AND IS KILLED

The first death today from New England's peace celebration was that of Henry Cercie at North Adams, 20 years old. He fell from a cannon which was being hauled in a parade and was run over and instantly killed. His father, who beheld the fatality, was prostrated.

25 TONS OF FIREWORKS GOING OFF ON COMMON

Twenty-five tons of fireworks, the first seen in Boston for many a night, will be set off on Boston Common tonight, under supervision of the State police, to help celebrate the victory of America and her allies. A display of pyrotechnics has not been seen in Boston since the Summer of 1917.

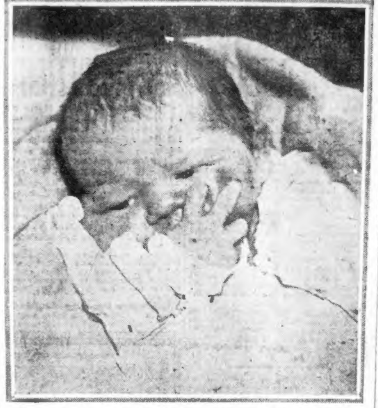
Recipe for a Mild Laxative Cough Syrup

Made With Simple Sugar Syrup and Mentho-Laxene in About Five Minutes.

Make a syrup with a pint of sugar and a half pint of boiling water, cool and pour into a bottle or jar. Then add the contents of a 2½ oz. bottle of Mentho-Laxene, shake well, and take a teaspoonful four to eight times a day for head or chest colds, coughs, bronchitis, whooping cough or catarrh of head and throat.

Actually, the very first dose will show you the wonderful virtues in Mentho-Laxene. It is penetrating, healing, soothing and curative to a greater extent than anything ever discovered. Children like it and adults use it from Maine to California. Physicians prescribe it, hospitals use it, and why should not you enjoy the benefits of a cheap, home-made remedy free from narcotic, sickening drugs? Ask your druggist for Mentho-Laxene and insist on getting it, for it is guaranteed to please every purchaser or money back by The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio.—Advertisement.

DORCHESTER VICTORY BABY



The first "victory" baby in this city was born at 3 o'clock this morning, ten minutes after the news was flashed from Washington of the signing of the armistice. The baby is a boy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Boyle of No. 15 Mapes street, Dorchester. The mother and child are "doing well."

Dorchester and Roxbury "Smiles" Wednesday

The stage is already set for the seventh Boston instalment of "Smiles Across the Sea," which will be filmed on Wednesday at the William Eustis playground, at Massachusetts avenue and Proctor street, Roxbury.

Hundreds of happy relatives of smiling soldier boys overseas will be on hand at 2 o'clock to send their smiles to France through the medium of the AMERICAN movie camera. All relatives residing in Wards 11, 12 and 13, under the jurisdiction of local exemption boards of the same numbers, are hereby extended a cordial invitation to be "in the picture" Wednesday.

All CAMBRIDGE and ARLINGTON relatives are invited to be filmed in one great combined picture, to be made at Rindge Field, NORTH CAMBRIDGE, on Saturday afternoon.

DORCHESTER CENTRE, ASHMONT, NEPONSET and MATTAPAN relatives will be filmed at FRANKLIN FIELD, Blue Hill and Talbot avenues, Dorchester, next SUNDAY.

BRIGHTON, ALLSTON and BROOKLINE relatives will receive an invitation to be "in the picture" on Wednesday, November 20, at Allston playground, Allston.

Other appointments, at the rate of three a week, will successively include in the "Smiles" film all soldiers' relatives in Boston and suburbs.

Read the Boston AMERICAN every day to learn when your district will be filmed.

All costs and responsibility will be assumed by William Randolph Hearst and the International Film Service.

COLONEL HOUSE CABLED NEWS TO CAPITAL

Conveyed to Press at 2:45 A.M. Simultaneously by Chief of Foreign Intelligence

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The fighting has ended. Peace has succeeded war.

And a joyous nation today celebrated the transition.

The end came suddenly. Washington, the capital of the nation, was peacefully slumbering when the news came. It took the form of a very brief dispatch from Colonel E. M. House to the State Department.

"The armistice has been signed," he reported.

This word reached the gray State, War and Navy building at 2:45 this morning. Within the old rambling structure a handful of red-eyed, tired newspaper correspondents were waiting in a room set aside for their use.

Philip T. Patchin, chief of the foreign intelligence division of the State Department, walked slowly into the room.

He had been making similar trips at intervals throughout the night, and his arrival caused no sensation. He waited for a few seconds while a messenger, already sent for the purpose, rounded up a couple of missing men.

Patchin, pulling a little yellow blank from his pocket, then announced in a low, calm tone:

"Gentlemen, the armistice has been signed."

Then he turned on his heel and strode rapidly back to his office. Two seconds later the announcement that meant so much to humanity was en route to every section of the country.

It was five minutes later before any additional facts had arrived. They simply contained the following:

"The armistice was signed at 5 o'clock this morning (French time). Hostilities will cease at 11 o'clock (French time)."

The message already had been telephoned to the White House. All members of the Cabinet were at once notified as were the mebers of the diplomatic corps.

However, so far as Washington was concerned, the announcement that the world war actually had ended created no excitement at the hour it was announced.

The newspaper extras were rushed to all quarters of the city, but they met with only a small sale. The early morning hour was not conducive to celebrating. People took the extras into their homes and apparently went back to bed.

Secretary of War Baker has on his desk the recommendations of the General Staff dealing with the demobilization of the army of the United States. The recommendations take the form of needed legislation and orders designed to check the flow of men into the army. They are to be made public as soon as possible, probably in the course of today. Meanwhile, the army and navy program is to continue unchanged.

Officials said that there would be no delay in the calling of the peace conference. It is expected that announcement of the Americans who will represent the United States will be forthcoming as soon as the Versailles conference can reach an agreement as to the time and place and the basis of representation.

Silks and Dress Goods

No garment rises above the level of its fabrics. Whether it be a gleaming satin gown, a comfortable, warm coat, or a little percale house dress, its success is largely determined by the material you buy.

Attractive as the fabric may appear, you must depend largely on the word of the dealer for its durability and continued good looks.

When you buy at White's you buy from a house whose goods have had a reputation for more than half a century, a house which has stood for higher quality and greatest value.

LANSING MAY GO AS AMERICAN PEACE ENVOY

State Secretary Suggested, in View of Precedents of Foster and Judge Day

By International News Service.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Secretary of State Lansing may be the legal representative of the United States government at the peace conference. Officials this aftrnoon expressed the belief that he would be selected by President Wilson, for that post. The Secretary himself declined to discuss the report.

General John W. Foster resigned as Secretary of State to accept the post of American representative during the Alaskan fisheries dispute, and Judge Day resigned as Secretary of State in 1898 to become one of the Spanish-American peace delegates.

State Department officials, when asked today whether the announcement made in London that the new German government would be likely to get better peace terms than the former was authorized, said that it was in no way official. However, Secretary Lansing said that there has always been the disposition within this government to "be just." There will be no change in the status of interned alien enemies for the present, officials said.

It became known today that the armistice terms have been in the possession of President Wilson since one week ago today.

German Envoys Return

SOLDIERS ISSUE APPEAL FROM BERLIN

Urge Loyalty to People; Wurtemburg Is Proclaimed a Republic

Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—A provisional Socialist republic has been set up in Hesse-Darmstadt by German revolutionists, according to advices from Berlin. The proclamation sets forth that the government of the new state will continue in charge of affairs until a German republic has been established.

Wurtemburg has also proclaimed itself a republic. It is announced that the garrison at Dresden, the capital of Saxony, is in charge of a provisional Soldiers' and Workmen's Council.

ALL DRAFT CALLS SUSPENDED

Washington, Nov. 11—All calls under the draft law were ordered suspended today by the War Department. Provost Marshal-General Crowder took steps to prevent the entrainment of all men scheduled to start for overseas.

The order says:

"Pending developments in the situation which has arisen because of the fact that Germany has signed an armistice providing for the cessation of hostilities, the President directs that all general and voluntary calls now outstanding for the induction and mobilization of registrants of whatever color or physical qualifications for the army be and the same are hereby cancelled.

"Pending further instructions, no more inductions shall be made into the army or entrainment permitted or undertaken under this call. Local boards shall immediately recall all induction orders which have been issued for induction into the army under such call, and shall recall induction orders which have been issued for induction under such call."

It is provided that all calls shall be cancelled except where they affect men already entrained, or deserters.

Local boards will notify registrants of the canceliation of their call by letter, telegram or orally as circumstances may require and proper proof of the issuance of such order of cancellation must be presented by each registrant.

The President further directed that all registrants who are already inducted into the army under those calls and who have not actually been entrained for a mobilization camp shall be discharged from the army. The issue of formal papers of discharge will be considered and determened later, at which time claims for adjustment of pay and allowance for the men so inducted and discharged will be passed upon. General Crowder's order expressly stipulates that it in no way affects any call for induction into the navy or marine corps. All such inductions and entrainments will proceed as ordered.

The order will not operate to relieve from the consequences of his acts any registrant affected by the orders who has heretofore become a delinquent or deserter.

"The purpose of the order," said General Crowder, "is merely to cancel outstanding calls and stop the entrainment thereunder of men for the army."

All registrants released from induction under the provisions of this order are liable for immediate call in the usual manner at any time. The orderly processes of classification, physical examination or other activities of the selective service draft will not be affected by or interrupted as the result of this order.

8,500 UNIFORM MEN IN GREAT PAGEANT

Eight thousand five hundred uniformed men took part in the big army and navy parade which started at 2 o'clock today from Arlington and Beacon streets.

Major-General William Crozier acceded to the request of the AMERICAN and headed the parade, mounted on his own charger. Colonel Albert S. Williams, chief of staff, was marshal, assisted by Major Michael J. Moore.

The army section consisted of eight battalions, aggregating about 3,500 men, and included the Third Battalion from Commonwealth Armory, Seventh Battalion from Watertown Arsenal, Twentieth Company North Atlantic Coast Artillery from the harbor forts, and battalions from the student army training corps at Harvard and Technology.

The naval division, headed by Rear Admiral Spencer S. Wood, consisted of about 5,000 uniformed men, including bluejackets from Commonwealth Pier and detachments from the aviation and radio sections at Cambridge, Hingham, Bumkin Island and Charlestown Navy Yard.

The route was from Beacon and Arlington streets, down Beacon to School street, to Washington, to Milk, to Federal, to Summer, to Winter, to Federal, to Summer, to Winter, to Tremont, to Boylston, to Park square, where it was disbanded.

From the steps of the State House, as it passed down Beacon street, it was reviewed by Governor Samuel McCall and his staff. Mayor Peters reviewed it in front of City Hall, and Major-General Crozier and Admiral Wood in Park square.

U. S. GUNS ROAR "GOOD-BYE" ON FRONT

By BERT FORD.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

With the American Army north of Verdun, Nov. 11 (Noon).—The great war has passed into history.

All the American batteries along the whole front of seventy-five miles said good-bye to the war with a concerted blast of artillery that rocked the earth.

"That's the Kaiser's knockout," was the way the brawny Yankee gunners put it.

The army was notified that the armistice was signed at 5 o'clock. American great headquarters sent out orders by wireless and telephone that German hostilities would cease at 10:55, and the Americans quit at 11 o'clock.

The five minutes difference is in German time and resulted in a cessation of fighting at the same time on both sides.

CHICLE

Why shouldn't he smile?

Uncle Sam became our biggest customer during the War. We gave him all he asked for. We sent overseas 155,945,000 sticks of Adams Gum.

The men in the front line trenches craved it—they couldn't smoke. To the men in the hospitals it was a blessing. The men in the artillery used it to rest their nerves. The men in the Tank Corps fought on it. And to the boys in the air, gum was a great steadier.

Now that peace is here, let Adams Gum become a part of your daily existence. For the soldier boy has proved that chewing gum is an efficiency habit. It makes men fit.

But until the boys get back home again please bear with us. You probably couldn't buy your favorite Adams brand the last time you asked for it. Some soldier boy got your package. If you find Adams Black Jack missing from the counter, try Adams California Fruit, Adams Pepsin, Adams Chiclets or any Adams brand.

THREE BIG BONFIRES CAUSE OF AN ALARM

Three big bonfires, started on three of the busiest corners in the West End early today as a result of the wildly enthusiastic celebration, caused an alarm to be rung in from Box 1345. The fires were at Spring and Chambers streets, Chambers and Poplar streets and Poplar and Brighton streets. By 8 o'clock police headquarters was deluged with requests for permits to parade, and the office force was swamped under in its attempts to handle the volume of business. Through the downtown streets the police gave the celebrators every leeway.

WORCESTER LAWYERS TO AID SULLIVAN

Worcester, Nov. 11.—Almost every Democratic lawyer in Worcester has volunteered his services gratis to Peter F. Sullivan, elected State Senator from the First Worcester District, in the recount of votes which starts today, upon petition of the friends of James Harrop, defeated Republican candidate. It is probable that a committee of three lawyers, John F. McGrath, Democratic candidate for Congress; John C. Mahoney and another lawyer, to be decided on, will represent Sullivan at the recount.

OLD FASHIONED FAMILY REMEDY FOR COLDS, GRIP, PNEUMONIA AND BODY BUILDING

Father John's Medicine Builds New Strength During the Getting-Well Stage After Any Illness — Heals Throat and Lungs.

A Doctor's Prescription. Free From Alcohol and Dangerous Drugs—60 Years In Use.

The getting-well stage of grip is the most dangerous of all, because the body, weakened by the grip, is wide open to attacks of other lurking disease germs.

That is why all the organs of the body must be kept in their best working order, not only to drive out the poison left by the grip germ, but that the patient shall regain strength as soon as possible to avoid further attacks resulting from the poisons in the system.

As a means toward good health after the grip Father John's Medicine builds up the body because it is all pure, wholesome nourishment and free from opium, morphine, chloroform or other poisonous drugs or alcohol. Father John's Medicine has had sixty years' success for colds and throat troubles, coughs and sore throats, and as a tonic and body builder.

Millions Use It For Colds

Because "Pape's Cold Compound" relieves cold or grippe misery in a few hours—Really wonderful!

Don't stay stuffed-up!

Quit blowing and snuffing! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute. Insist on "Pape's"—nothing else.—Advertisement.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion — dark rings under your eyes — pimples — a bilious look in your face — dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Ten Years Ago in Sport

SINCE arriving at the meeting of the American League at Chicago, President John I. Taylor of the Red Sox has disposed of ten players to minor league clubs and pocketed $17,000. John Hoey remains for sale.

WILLIE LEWIS and Harry Lewis have signed up for a fifteen-round bout, December 14. They have agreed to weigh 148 pounds at 3 o'clock. (Remember Honey Mellody's fight with Willie Lewis down in Rhode Island?)

BROWNIE GESSLER, one of the Red Sox star outfielders, was turned loose by Brooklyn and Chicago and served a year with Columbus in the American Association before he showed the form of a regular. (Serving a year in Columbus is some sentence. Ever in that burg?)

* * *

IN a long letter to the AMERICAN, Mike Twin Sullivan states that Brother Jack wants a crack at Tommy Burns, whether Tommy wins or loses against Jack Johnson, and is willing to bet $2,500 Jack can beat him in a twenty-round bout. Mike also says nothing would please him more than a match with Jack Blackburn, Harry Lewis, or Jimmy Gardner. (Mike had the Indian sign on Gardner when both were in their prime.)

* * *

DAY GIRL, 2:12¼, Willis Foote's prodigal trotter, won twelve out of her fifteen starts this season and took her record over a half-mile track.

NOTICE to members—Denny O'Hare, one of our regular members in the Old Eastern, has been hooked up in the draft and leaves tomorrow for Camp Lee.

* * *

JIM CORBETT says he differs from Joe Gans, who stated Battling Nelson can't be knocked out. "He can," said Corbett, "and by a human fist, too. No man ever lived who couldn't be knocked out." (By gosh, Jim, I guess you're right.)

Resinol

stops itching instantly

Don't let that itching skin-trouble torment you an hour longer! Just spread a little Resinol Ointment over the sick skin and see if the itching does not disappear as if you simply wiped it away!

And—even more important—this soothing, healing ointment rarely fails to clear away promptly every trace of the unsightly, tormenting eruption, unless it is due to some serious internal disorder.

Resinol Ointment usually gives even prompter results if the sore places are first bathed thoroughly with Resinol Soap and hot water.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap contain nothing that could injure or irritate the tenderest skin. They clear away pimples, redness and roughness, stop dandruff. Sold by all druggists.

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "loggy," headachy, tired, don't-know-what's-the-matter feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS, your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, calomel and ordinary laxatives, cathartics and purges only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but toning and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test.

Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And oh, what a relief! You'll be surprised to find how much better you feel—brighter, better every way.

If habitually or stubbornly constipated, take one NR Tablet each night for a week. Then you'll not have to take medicine every day. Just an occasional NR Tablet after that will be sufficient to keep your system in good condition — keep you feeling your best.

Harmless Means of Reducing Fat

Many fat people fear ordinary means for reducing their weight. Here is an extraordinary method. Extraordinary because while perfectly harmless no dieting or exercise are necessary. Marmola Prescription Tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription. A reduction of two, three or four pounds a week is the rule. Procure them from any druggist or if you prefer send 75 cents to the Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., for a large case.

Cadum Ointment

has proved a blessing to thousands who have suffered for years from irritating and stubborn skin troubles. It stops the itching at once and is very healing and soothing wherever the skin is irritated or inflamed. Much suffering from skin trouble may be avoided by the use of this wonderful remedy. Cadum Ointment is good for eczema, pimples, blotches, itch, scaly skin, eruptions, chafings, piles, rash, scabs, ringworm, cuts, sores, burns, insect bites, etc.

Proposals.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS—Metropolitan Park Commission—Notice. Sealed proposals for furnishing tow boats to be used in breaking ice in the channels of the Charles River Basin will be received at the office of the Metropolitan Park Commission, 18 Tremont st., Boston, Mass., until 12 o'clock m. of Monday, Nov. 18, 1918, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read. The boats shall be of such size and with engines of such power as will be required to do the work in a manner satisfactory to the engineer. The price shall be quoted at a rate per hour, for not less than eight hours' work on any one order, and the time shall be computed from the time the boat arrives at the entrance to the Charles River Dam lock until it leaves the lock to return to its wharf, with deductions for any delays from causes beyond the control of the board. During the time of employment the boats will be under the direction and subject to the orders of the engineer of the board, or other duly authorized agents. The bidder will also be required to furnish evidence that he is able to substitute other boats of equal capacity in case of accident, either to the boat or machinery while in use; in case the machinery or boat breaks down, no compensation will be made for the time that the boat is unable to work. Boat must be sent to the work within four hours' notice of the time it is required by the engineer of the board or other duly authorized agents. Alternative proposals will be considered for furnishing tow boat fully equipped and manned with single crew, boat to remain continuously in the Basin from December 15, 1918, [illegible] March 15, 1919, inclusive, under charter [illegible] work any or all of the time. REJOICE—AND GIVE THANKS

This day, which finds the Kaiser and the Crown Prince in flight, Autocracy humbled in the dust and Democracy and the Right triumphant, is one of the five or six really Great Days in the history of the world. We do well to celebrate it. Nobody can magnify its importance.

It is a great and a proud day not alone in the United States of America, whose entry into the World War made it possible, but throughout Great Britain and her colonies, in France, in Belgium, in Italy, Portugal, Serbia, Rumania, Japan and Cuba.

To each of the allied nations, to Foch, to Lloyd George, to Albert of Belgium, to Clemenceau, greeting and congratulations! You did it—ALL of you. Little Belgium, which held the giant horde at bay until help came. Glorious France, taking for your watchword, "They shall not pass!" Imperial Britain, fighting with old-time grit and characteristically making light of it.

And, as we join in the Te Deum this day and evening, let us not forget to give thanks for the great leader whom Almighty God had given to the Nation in this as in so many crises, Woodrow Wilson!

Thank God for Woodrow Wilson, for John J. Pershing, for every brave lad in blue who sails the seas under the Starry Banner, for every stalwart lad in khaki Over There or, over here, ready to go.

Thank God, too, for the Fathers and Mothers who gave these boys to a proud and glorious and grateful country.

Cheer and cheer and cheer again for the Allies and our leaders.

And be thankful to the God of our Fathers.

George Fred Williams

Amid the rejoicing over the victory of the Initiative and Referendum and over the great democratic changes which are coming about in our institutions, we must not forget a man who is now permitting himself to be fast forgotten, but who, in the days when these policies were considered highly socialistic, dared to advocate them when they brought nothing but obloquy, social ostracism and political enemies. That man is Hon. George Fred Williams.

Governor McCall and the Recent Election

Nothing is more ridiculous than the attempt to blame Governor McCall for the defeat of Senator Weeks.

If the practical Republican politicians had been less interested in the privilege of spending a large campaign fund and more interested in the success of their party, they would have nominated Governor McCall for the Senate. As it was they took one of their weakest men. Mr. Weeks is a man of very likeable ersonality, but with associations and a public record of which a ajority of the people of Massachusetts disapprove.

Governor McCall's record, since he became Governor, has en entirely of a different type. His withdrawing from the cont against Mr. Weeks gave Mr. Weeks the only hope he had of tion, for if the Governor had entered the arena he would have n obliged to discuss in his own penetrating style Mr. Weeks' lic record, and Mr. Weeks, even if he had won in the primary st, would have been obliged to have entered the field against Walsh mortally wounded—a defeated man before the real t began.

AMERICAN wants to thank Governor McCall for his ontribution to the cause of the Initiative and Referendum. e to him more than to any one that we obtained the Conal Convention which submitted the Initiative and Refero the people. He promised it publicly as part of his camatform and he kept the faith religiously against the most it and searching campaign among the reactionary elements e Republican party to induce him to break it. If he did not for the Initiative and Referendum we know that in a few s he will regret his mistake, which was the hang-over of an old dice.

mperative Need of Official Campaign Bulletin

he campaign which has just come to a close has given a fresh most striking illustration of the imperative need of the OFFIAL CAMPAIGN BULLETIN which the AMERICAN has for y years urged upon the Massachusetts Legislature.

Here we had NINETEEN IMPORTANT CONSTITUTIONAL ANGES recommended to the people by a Constitutional Contion after many months of discussion, during which the argunts for and against each of them were ably presented and carey weighed. If we had an official campaign bulletin such as the ERICAN considers indispensable to the intelligent exercise of referendum by the voters EVERY CITIZEN WOULD HAVE D IN HIS HANDS, WEEKS AGO, A BRIEF AND CLEAR NDENSATION OF THESE ARGUMENTS, prepared by the st advocates and opponents of each measure and prepared er the supervi n of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and DER CONDIT NS THAT WOULD HAVE GIVEN EACH E AN OPPOR NITY TO MEET AND ANSWER, if possible, point raised by the other.

perience in other States has shown that such simultaneous tions of both sides of the case have the well-known drawon of a "joint debate"; that these official bulletins are ied by the voters, and that the decisions registered polls are reasonable and consistent to a degree y our State Legislatures, a large part of whose ension are necessarily spent in undoing or amendcts of previous years.

ith the present situation in Massachusetts! pending amendments had SCARCELY e campaign at all. Two others had been newspapers, but without any attempt ONE SIDE of the case in its most fad most important amendment of all, m, WAS INGENIOUSLY AND UNRESENTED TO EVERY VOTER H WITH ALL THE PRACTICED ORATION MONEY COULD HIRE ERS COULD SUPPLY, while the s left to three or four independent to such eleventh-hour advertising s could be paid for by a group of interests at stake, at a time when ked to the limit to respond to the carry on the war and to provide soldiers in the field.

ll never occur in Massachusetts y provides that hereafter every ll be accompanied by the reasons under discussion in the Legisla-

If I Could Utter

By Ella Wheeler Wilcox

If I could utter all the love I feel
Surging within me for God's universe,
I think the very sun itself would reel
Upon its orbit, stirred by a strong emotion;
And all the stars as in a radiant ocean
Would in my heart their beauteous beams immerse.
If I could utter all the love I feel.

If I could utter my great love for all
The countless forms of upward-reaching life—
The vine that strains toward God upon the wall—
The patient ant, intent upon its duty,
The human, blindly seeking truth and beauty,
No longer would earth's creatures live in strife;
If I could utter my great love for all.

If I could utter love to all the earth,
So men would grasp the meaning of the word,
Then would each soul know its immortal birth—
Its mighty goal, its glorious beginning,
And there would be no sorrow and no sinning,
Nor anything but joy for those who heard—
If I could utter love to all the earth.

If I could utter my vast love for God,
Who set my soul upon its karmic course,
Who fashioned every way my feet have trod,
Who builded spiral stairs for my ascending,
Oh, then, would He bring my long path an ending
And I would sing again into the Source,
If I could utter my vast love for God.

Our Heroes Deserve All Their Glory

By Winifred Black

DID you read that story that came singing over from France the other day—the one about Sergeant O'Leary, or was it O'Rourke?—it was a good fighting name, anyhow—and how he got into the little village ahead of his company and took it all by himself, with the Germans throwing down their guns and running like rabbits?

And did you hear what he and the boys who followed him did to that village?

They didn't start out hunting for loot. They didn't set fire to the chateau on the hill or break down the doors of the poor little humble cottages, as is the German custom.

They didn't swagger and brag and break open the wine casks and drink. Not they. They were too busy.

Busy hunting in the dark cellars and the hidden dugouts for the little pale, hollow-eyed children who have been hiding there ever since the German occupation.

Many of those children hadn't been allowed to see the light of day for four years.

Four years of hunger and terror and the dark.

Four years of whispering and silence and trembling for fear one childish shout of joy would anger the German conquerors and cost every human being in the village a life.

They hunted for them and they found them, the poor little, big-eyed, trembling, frightened children—our boys, our American boys, your boy, and mine, perhaps—some from Georgia, some from Maine, and some from California, every one of them Americans!

And when they had found the children they took them in their arms and gave them chocolate and put them up on their shoulders and marched up and down the narrow streets of the straggling village and sang and cheered and laughed—and wanted to cry themselves, no doubt, most of them, and grinned at each other and blinked to keep back the tears.

And do you know the strange thing about it?

The little children, reared in terror and in trembling, weren't afraid for one instant.

They put their poor little thin arms around the soldiers' necks and kissed them and patted their faces, and laughed aloud for joy.

And one more thing they did—they sang "The Marseillaise."

And our boys—our plain, every day American boys—what did they think of it when they heard those little voices pipe up in that great song of freedom?

Their own little brothers and sisters at home, fed and clothed and comfortably housed—"kids," they called them in their hearts without a doubt, in that American slang which covers so lightly so much that's deep and enduring.

No wonder the women of France and the French soldiers love the "Yanks."

Crescent Down, Cross Up.
Western Europe Rules.
Freeing a Chimpanzee.
Divide the Land.

By Arthur Brisbane

Fate and the war have shaken the face of Europe as a child shakes the rolling particles within the kaleidoscope.

The Kaiser is to be replaced by a republic in Germany. Little doubt of that—unless Bolshevism should win and replace autocracy of the throne with autocracy of the gutter.

In Constantinople the crescent that, nearly five hundred years ago, was placed on the dome of Saint Sophia will come down and the cross again take its place—unless a new kind of government by mob leadership should decide that neither crescent nor cross is wanted.

The Poles that saved Vienna from Turkey, under Sobieski, four hundred years ago, and that were enslaved and divided among their neighbors for their pains, are again to rule themselves, selecting their own kind of experiment.

The Turks are to stop murdering Armenians, and the world will learn what powers of construction and expansion reside in that interesting people that combine Christianity with Semitic blood and that have been systematically murdered by the Turks because the Turks could not compete commercially in any other way.

Europe's famous "balance of power" is suddenly lopsided and abandoned. Western Europe has won the war and, except for Japan and the United States, western Europe controls the world.

Having control of the world's intelligence, that result was inevitable. Intelligence wins, and has won all wars in the end.

The head of the world's biggest war machine becomes a private citizen—although he will probably die without knowing it. His partnership with the celestial regions ends abruptly, and the remaining chapters will be the ending of his relations with his people on earth.

There are fewer than half a dozen men living that could enumerate clearly and completely the chief factors in the problems that victorious democracy finds on its hands.

The Kaiser's right to rule is settled. How about the alleged rights of millions dreaming dreams in Russia, waving the red flag in Germany and declaring that they will not be ruled at all?

How will territories suddenly deprived of organized government be kept going and the populations fed? If they are not fed, what will happen?

To say to various peoples, "you are free, you may govern yourselves," does not mean everything. HOW are they to govern themselves? Government is a growth. It was never made overnight. Plato or Karl Marx could map it out on paper. But model government on paper does not deliver milk and rolls in the morning or encourage men to do their best by protecting them in the possession of what they produce.

All sciences combined could not create one quivering jellyfish without the aid of that mysterious thing called life. Scientists do experiment with the problem of life production in its lowest forms. But none would ever dream of attempting to create a vertebrate.

Infinitely more complicated than any vertebrate is human government, the mental association of millions of "primates."

The scientists of government approach with fine courage the problem of creating government. Many surprises and disappointments are ahead of them.

Men are not free merely because some one has treated them justly, or slaves because they have been unjustly treated. They are free because they have proved themselves fit for freedom, ready to fight for it and keep on fighting to maintain it.

They are slaves because freedom is not in them.

Free a chimpanzee and he will still come to you for peanuts. He will not plant any.

One thing might be done: Give individuals everywhere individual ownership of land, where it has been kept from them. (Kind heaven, divert single tax wrath from this column.)

The wise English did that in Ireland and overnight took the sting out of the Irish situation. There is still an Irish agitation. But every Irishman can own the land he tills. He can force the landlord to sell it to him at a low price on long payment, and England lends him the money to buy that land with an interest rate lower than England pays on loans.

You may say that if you divide the land, special cunning will soon accumulate it in large plots. It will not, if you combine the generosity of the French revolution with the wisdom of Napoleon.

The revolution took the land from the nobles that kept the peasants as slaves and divided it among those slaves.

BACHELORS AND OLD MAIDS

"Isn't it too bad she never married; she would have made an ideal home maker; I feel sorry for her."

"Isn't it strange he has never married. He must be a very selfish man. I know he would be happier with a home of his own."

Haven't made remarks of this sort about people who are not married?

This is sympathy extended where it is not needed or desired.

It is far better for a woman to remain single than to marry a man whom she does not truly love—just for the sake of having a home and a supporter.

It is preferable for a man to be wifeless than to marry because he thinks it is his duty, or merely because he wants a home of his own.

When men and women do not marry, it is usually because they have not found the ones who would be congenial.

Single people are much happier than they would be were they joined by bonds which they would look upon as shackles.

So-called old maids and old bachelors do not want sympathy.

Often they look upon some married persons with pity in their hearts, instead of constant envy.

Stars and Stripes

The wise married woman never confides dangerous secrets to another married woman.
